

Brede Bulletin

11th November 2022

Dear parents and carers,
Walking around school this week has been an absolute joy, from balance bikes to photographs and Christmas carols. These activities feel all the sweeter after many were suspended due to COVID. The children took part in a minute's silence for Armistice Day today, and it was heart-warming to hear some of the children recalling their learning of World War II from last year. You may have listened to your children come home singing Christmas carols this week. We will send home the music and words soon so that everyone can practice and join our community Christmas celebrations next month.
